"He builds too low who builds beneath the stars"

Published by the CLASS OF '58
Mount Everett Regional School
Sheffield, Massachusetts

DEDICATION

We, the Class of 1958, are happy to dedicate this yearbook to Mrs. Barbara R. Rhoades whose sincere efforts on our behalf have helped us immeasurably to attain our scholastic level. Mrs. Rhoades has been able to instill into the daily routine a charming friendliness which has made the work so much easier and memorable.

FOREWORD

The Class of 1958 has chosen the solar system as its theme for THE AURIGAN. This seems most appropriate since the title of our yearbook is taken from a five star constellation, Auriga. Each of the five stars represents a township which together form the Southern Berkshire Regional School District.

Edward Young's quotation, "He builds too low who builds beneath the stars," is our motto. We understand the motto to mean that one should aspire to the ultimate, above the stars. In order to succeed one must have an ambition and then be determined to attain it. At this time, too, space is in the news. Earth satellites, missiles, and rockets are having a profound effect upon all our lives; therefore, it is our aim to represent parts of the solar system in designs for the division pages as well as to carry out the theme in the class history and prophecy.

The Senior Class would like to express their gratitude to Mr. May, who has designed the yearbook cover, and to Mr. Norton, who has contributed much time and effort to the yearbook by taking and developing photographs of various activities at Mount Everett.

IN MEMORY

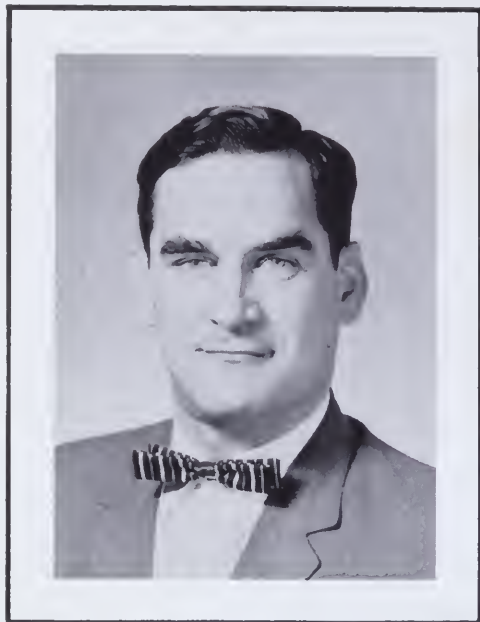

On January 30 of 1956 during our first year at Mount Everett, Richard O'Hara died as the result of an automobile accident. Dick was born in New Smyrna Beach, Florida, on November 13, 1939, where he lived until his family moved to Mill River and finally to Monterey. Before coming to Mount Everett, Dick attended New Marlboro High School where he was captain of the junior varsity basketball team and pitcher on the baseball team.

Well liked by his many friends, Dick was especially noted for his shy but genial ways. Dick had two opposite sides to his personality; he was both fun-loving and serious. In either frame of mind he always provided his classmates with good company. Dick's memory will stay with us always.

CLASS HISTORY

Our goal will finally be attained as we reach the North Star on Friday, June 13. Associating ourselves with the Big Dipper, it can be said that we have looked to this star as our guide. Now reminiscing, we can recall our past pleasurable experiences found in learning and in working with our friends.

Wending a pathway towards our sophomore star, the Class of '58 consisted of individuals from the five stars: Alford, Egremont, Monterey, New Marlboro, and Sheffield. Time was allotted to become acquainted with our new classmates before elections. Under the supervision of our class advisors, Mrs. Alice Kettenhofen and Mr. James Shiminski, we selected: president, Tom Kradel; vice president, Tom Andrews; secretary, Sandra MacDarby; treasurer, Barbara Wilcox; and Student Council representative, Ed Smith.

Our class was saddened on January 30, 1956, by Dick O'Hara's death which was the result of an automobile accident. The social highlight of the year was our spring dance. Mary Lou Chapin represented Mount Everett Regional in the All-State Chorus at Pittsfield, Massachusetts, and also attended the Music Educator's National Conference in St. Louis, Missouri.

In June of 1956 we had finally arrived at the sophomore star, but all too soon we began a new trek toward our next destination, successful completion of our junior year. Upon returning in September, we chose the following as our class officers: president, Tom Kradel; vice president, Jim Bunce; secretary, Elizabeth Schneck; treasurer, Barbara Wilcox; and Student Council representative, Ed Smith. The officers were assisted by Mrs. Jayne Armstrong and Mr. Grank Merrigan.

We Juniors gave the first dance of the school year. Receiving our class rings will be remembered as another step toward the North Star. The junior class was proud to have six of its members inducted into the Aurigan Chapter of the National Honor Society. Those initiated were: Mary Lou Chapin, Martha French, Tom Kradel, Helen Le Geyt, Elizabeth Schneck, and Barbara Wilcox. This was a very solemn occasion which made us think about the even more solemn one to come - graduation.

Then came the two yearly proms, the Junior Prom and the Senior Farewell. The Senior Farewell, which we presented to the Class of 1957, has as its theme, "Harbor Lights." A light house, boats, and nets were used to develop the motif of a fishing village. Lloyd Hoyt, Richard Pekar, Ed Smith, Ted Somes, and Mary Lou Chapin were our delegates to Massachusetts Boys' State and Girls' State respectively. The Aurigan Fair presented by the Student Council culminated the social activities for 1957. Shortly we could expect to attain the North Star.

Eager to start our last year at Mount Everett, for the last time we chose our class officers. They were: president, Tom Kradel; vice president, Frank Granger; secretary, Jean Peters; treasurer, Barbara Wilcox; and Student Council representative, Ed Smith. Mrs. Jayne Armstrong and Mr. Thomas Norton became our patient, hard working advisors.

As seniors we have been involved in constant activity. On September 20 we sponsored a dance, and then on the evenings of November 21 and 22 we presented the play, CHEAPER BY THE DOZEN. Taken from the book of the same name, CHEAPER BY THE DOZEN was greeted with great enthusiasm by the audience.

The North Star has burned more brightly as we quickly approach the end of our senior year. Work on the yearbook gradually diminished, and members of the class even found time to participate in the Christmas assembly which included a satirical version of "'Twas the Night Before Christmas."

Janet Olsen received the Daughters of the American Revolution award, and Joan Hall was voted by the student body to represent Mount Everett at Good Government Day. Both Mary Lou Chapin and Martha French acted as representatives for the All-State Chorus.

With still a few months to go before arriving at the North Star, we made plans for the Junior Prom, Class Night, and Graduation Exercises.

After graduating, each member of the 1958 Graduation Class will strive to attain his own star, his ambition in life.

CLASS PROPHECY

Each succeeding year the Aurigan Fair at Mount Everett has grown into a larger and more tumultuous event. After strenuous effort, extensive bribery, and physical coercion, the year 1968 finds the Student Council securing the services of the great and unparalleled Indian mystic, Madame Zurini, who will exert her most stupendous prophetic and psychic powers in tracing the achievements of that famous, that unprecedented, and that unforgettable class of '58.

Upon entering the booth of Madame Zurini, one is struck with a feeling of the most profound and supernatural. The incomparable astrological fortuneteller is sitting with a look of utter omniscience on her face. Her shawls of inky black, somber purple, and striking red serve only to enhance the mystic mood of the booth, draped in royal blue silk and trimmed with countless numbers of glittering stars.

On a table before her rests the crystal ball, the instrument with which she is able to delve into the unknown.

Appearing on the scene is Mr. Kradel, current ambassador to the Soviet Union who has just completed a great diplomatic mission; on a recent journey to the moon he successfully negotiated a treaty between American and Russian forces there. En route to Washington, he has stopped in Sheffield to deliver an address to the fair-goers. Parting the curtains and entering the booth, he greets Madam Zurini.

MR. KRADEL: Oh, Madame Zurini, it is indeed an honor to have the opportunity at last of meeting you. On behalf of the principal, Mr. Robert Hewins, I wish to welcome you to this school. Mr. Hewins is recuperating from a nervous breakdown due to the heavy burden of guiding the development of our youth.

MADAME ZURINI: I feared that my schedule would not permit my appearance here, but upon learning that the renowned millionaire publisher, Elizabeth Schneck, is an alumna of this school, I was most happy to come. Of course, you realize that she wrote the story of my life. This best-selling biography sells for only $10.95.

MR. KRADEL: Well, then, you must know her private secretary, Janet Blakely.

MADAME ZURINI: Oh yes, both she and Antoinette Hayes are very competent employees of Miss Schneck.

MR. KRADEL: There are several other class members who have become prominent figures. You have undoubtedly heard of Debby Shaw, the inventor of the Automatic Shoelacer; Janet Olsen, Miss Rheingold of 1965; Roger Newton, Mr. America of 1968; Pat Oates, former winner of the Davis Cup and now a professional tennis player; Margaret Golden, most photogenic of the Powers models; and Carole Williams, the leading lady of Broadway.

Madame Zurini, I would be immensely grateful if you would apply your mystic powers to discover the whereabouts of Henry Hubner, my old classmate.

MADAME ZURINI: For you, Mr. Kradel, I shall be glad to oblige. In fact, I shall even favor you with information about some other class acquaintances. Watch carefully... within the depths of my crystal ball I see shapes emerging. I see the darkest jungles of Africa. There stands Henry Hubner, an elephant driver and guide to a party of missionaries, whose destination is the mission settlement of Shirley Keach. Boosting the morale of their fellow travelers, Jean Peters, intent upon nursing the sick and needy, and Janice Lashooness, whose self-applied task is to teach the natives the art of hair-dressing, are enlivening the group with their gaiety.

MR. KRADEL: Your powers are indeed extraordinary! What you have said surpasses anything I have imagined.

MADAME ZURINI: But wait! There is more to come. New figures are forming. I now see Ringling Brothers Circus. In the biggest ring the undaunted lion tamer, Marjorie Johnson, is captivating the audience with her breath-taking feats. About to make his entrance is Joe Fitzpatrick, the world's funniest clown. Munching some popcorn, cowboy Wayne Ovitt is awaiting his cue to ride his horse Thunder into the ring.

MR. OGDEN: Excuse my interruption. However, as Mayor of Sheffield, I wish to welcome Madame Zurini. And what a pleasure to see my old friend, Tom Kradel.

MR. KRADEL: It certainly is, Mr. Ogden. Madame Zurini has been generous enough to divulge news about our former classmates. Perhaps you could tell us of those who have remained in this area.

MR. OGDEN: Among my most ardent political supporters are Lucy Green, Joan Hall, and Barbara Amstead. In fact, they took time from their housekeeping chores to act as my campaign managers. Peggy Palfini and Mable Johnson both work for station WSBS; Peggy has her own program, "At Home With Peggy," and Mable is a disk jockey. Nick Rutsis, president of the National Mahaiwe Bank, with his financial genius has raised the interest rate to 10 per cent. At this school, Ann Riou is working as a physical education instructor; Eddie Delmolino's hair is turning white from his experiences as a driver education teacher; and Martha French is head of the math department. Rufus Barnum is still staunchly defending women's rights.

I have heard about some of our other friends working in Boston and New York, but I'm not sure of their occupations.

MADAME ZURINI: I believe that I can help clarify this. Oh, yes...my crystal ball is showing me Boston. There I see Mary Lou Chapin, a sensational torch singer at Al Ranzoni's night club. Ed Smith is taking time out from his work with the Boston Red Sox to attend the latest concert given by the Boston Symphony Orchestra in which Pinkava is an outstanding trumpeter.

Now, I see New York City. Jack Wells has attained fame as top Santa Claus at Macy's, and his sister Shirley is an assistant in the interior decorating department there. Deanna Whitehill seems to be the best saleslady in Sak's fur coat department. Martha Brock's picture is a popular sight in the Ipana toothpaste ads.

MR. OGDEN: Have you heard about the terrible murder case? Even Lloyd Hoyt, the astute FBI agent, with his helper, Sandra MacDarby, can't help the district attorney, Richard Pekrul, in solving it. I understand that they have to bring a marriage counselor, Sue Rioux, and a psychologist, Betty Handlowich, into the case.

MR. KRADEL: I've certainly learned a lot in these few minutes! But now I must be on my way to Washington to give my moon report to President Granger. By the way, did you know Edward Oleen was the first man to land on the moon? Helen LeGeyt organized the details of the journey for him.

While I'm in Washington, I may very likely meet the President's chauffeur, Jimmy Bunce, and the architect of the new White House, Dorene Davenport. Good-bye, Madame Zurini.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the third graduating class of Mount Everett Regional School, supposedly of sound minds and packed with energy and good cheer, do hereby declare this to be our last will and testament.

RUFUS BARNUM leaves his ability to sleep in class to Jack French.

JANET BLAKELY leaves her rock n' roll records to Mr. Norton.

MARTHA BROCK leaves David's letters wrapped in asbestos.

JIMMY BUNCE leaves on time - at last.

MARY LOU CHAPIN leaves her musical talent to Billy Hall.

DOREEN DAVENPORT leaves a neat and clean art room to Mr. May.

EDDIE DELMOLINO leaves his height to Shawn Oates.

JOE FITZPATRICK leaves his red hair and freckles to Bruce Howden.

MARTHA FRENCH leaves her A's to anybody who needs them - Who doesn't?

MARGARET GOLDEN leaves her huge pocketbook to Lorraine Snyder.

FRANK GRANGER leaves his tuba to Bobby Pekrul.

LUCY GREEN leaves her temper to Sue Shaw.

JOAN HALL leaves her driving ability to Ingrid Joeston.

BETTY HANDLOWICH leaves her ability to talk in study hall to Susan Chapin.

TONI HAYES leaves her shorthand speed to Billy Emprimo.

BOBBY HEWINS leaves his quiet way to Billy Mintz.

LLOYD HOYT leaves his nickname "Lid" to Bob "Tank" Rutsis.

HENRY HUBNER wills a bottle of hair dye to Mr. Sullivan for those prematurely gray hairs he caused.

MABLE JOHNSON leaves her nonchalant way to Nancy Woodbeck.

MARGIE JOHNSON and BARBARA AMSTEAD leave a map of New York state to anyone who'd like it.

SHIRLEY KEACH leaves her shyness to Janet Cagney.

TOMMY KRADEL leaves his hall monitor's position to anybody who wants to buy a traffic light for that intersection.

JANICE LASHOONES leaves her Oscar to next year's star of the Senior Play.

HELEN LE GEYT leaves her job at the F-2 to Charles Ogden.

SANDRA MacDARBY leaves her trips to New York City to Linda Corser.

ROGER NEWTON leaves his cowboy boots to David Cosgriff.

PAT OATES leaves her ability in sports to Chris Edwards.

BART OGDEN leaves his yearbook managing to Jill Pickett.

ED OLEEN leaves his humane qualities to Lois Kramer.

JANET OLSEN leaves her typewriter to Ernest Preiss.

WAYNE OVITT leaves his popularity with the freshman girls to Charles Knight.

PEGGY PALFINI leaves her pennies to the French government to buy newspapers.

DICK PEKRUL leaves his car to someone who can tow it away.

JEAN PETERS leaves her ability to get in public places at kid's prices to Billy Gilchrist.

AUDREY PINKAVA leaves her trumpet to Joe Macchi.

AL RANZONI leaves his seat in the office to Barbara Lewis.
ANN RIOU leaves Spanish to Miss Goodman.
SUE RIOUX leaves her fingernail to Marie Peters.
NICK RUTSIS leaves his gym shorts to whomever goes on the trampoline.
ELIZABETH SCHNECK leaves her ability to argue to Jane Herrick.
DEBBY SHAW leaves her attraction for blondes to Linda Sanford.
ED SMITH leaves his dimples to Alice Stevens.
JACK WELLS leaves his long corridor walks to anyone with roller skates.
SHIRLEY WELLS leaves her life savers to anyone who dares eat them in class.
DEANNA WHITEHILL leaves her long trips on the bus to Evelyn Jackson.
BARBARA WILCOX leaves her seat in trig. to Gerry Rhines.
CAROLE WILLIAMS leaves her seat in Problems class to Joy Ovitt.

WE'LL NEVER FORGET

Mr. Norton and those "crazy" projects.
Debating Presley versus Beethoven in music appreciation classes.
Donating pennies for "La Jeunesse" in French II class.
The day the skunk invaded Mount Everett premises.
The noxious odors from hydrogen sulfide chemistry experiments.
Struggling to meet yearbook deadlines.
That momentous sports event at the Aurigan Fair when the student body bested the faculty by a narrow margin in the annual softball game.
Parodying "The Night Before Christmas" in our Christmas assembly.
The rise and fall of the "printed" Mount Everett News.
The black attire of students in deep mourning when report cards were issued.
Frantic last-minute rehearsals for "Cheaper By the Dozen."
The squeaking lighthouse at the Senior Farewell.
Proudly parading our class rings.
Studying to the accompaniment of workmen's hammers and drills during our first semester at Mount Everett.

LIFE AT MT. EVERETT

The Student Council is a school organization which represents the student body and serves as a link between the teacher and pupil.

newspaper staff

The newspaper staff is preparing copy for the next issue of the Mount Everett News.

Members of the Dramatics Club, usually rehearsing, are caught off-stage clowning.

dramatics club

The orchestra of talented school musicians has played for a number of assemblies throughout the year.

Mount Everett's band has marched during the past years in the Memorial Day parade, as well as played at other functions.

The girls of the Glee Club give each year a delightful performance during Class Night and Graduation Exercises.

The members of the tumbling team put on a fine performance as they exhibit one gymnastic exercise they have mastered.

arts and crafts club

Students of this club are preoccupied with pottery making, sketching, and woodworking.

Under the direction of Mr. Norton the Photography Club carefully inspects a new camera.

These modern deluxe bird houses are being built by the girls of the Girls' Industrial Arts Club.

The boys of this club are constructing, and skillfully too, a bobsled.

boys' industrial arts club

agriculture club

Members of the Agriculture Club are apparently testing milk for bacteria.

"Hunt and peck" certainly is not the method of typing taught in the Typing Club.

The boys of the Cooking Club are busily preparing, with anticipation, a French soufflé.

The members of the Junior Red Cross have prepared throughout the course of the year many various articles for local hospitals.

The smartly uniformed majorettes in blue and gold take an important part in leading the Mount Everett band.

Senior members of the National Honor Society show their serious nature as they pose for this picture.

As always, the year-book staff is trying to meet the deadline at the last minute.

This year basketball continued to be the favorite spectator sport at Mount Everett. Although the team's league standing was somewhat disappointing, the team more than compensated for losses to their opponents by their good sportsmanship and their strenuous efforts to win. Full support of the team by the cheerleaders and fans increased the high morale of the players. In these respects the results can be termed successful.

SOCCER

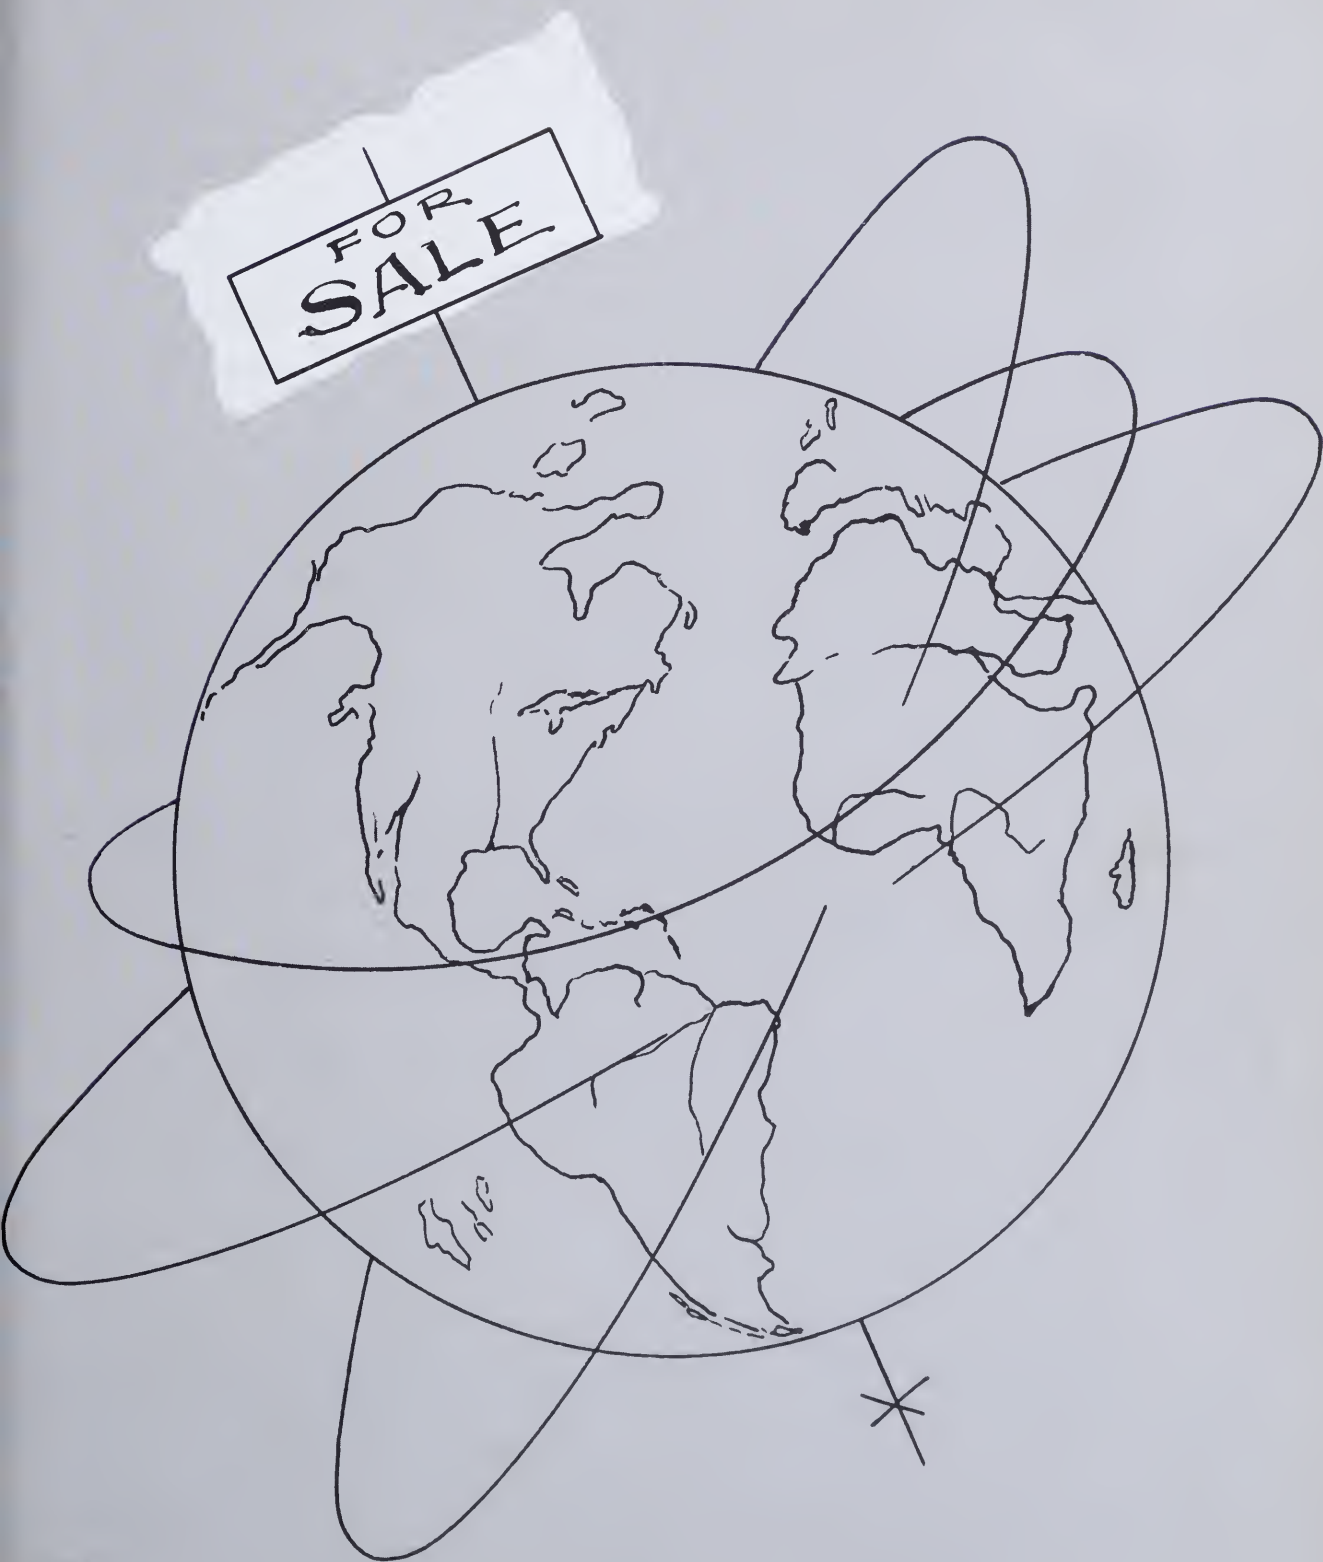

During the soccer season relatively inexperienced players steadily developed into seasoned players under the able direction of Coach Maghery so that the Mount Everett team provided real competition for opposing teams.

BASEBALL

The return of several varsity members to the baseball squad promises to make this year's baseball team one of the best in Mount Everett history.
